

Public Event, Workshop & Networking

Generously hosted by Hill Dickinson LLP, The Balance, Pinstone Street, Sheffield S1 2GU.

Thursday 27th June 2013

Registration: 3.15pm

Prompt start: 3.35pm - 7.00pm

Programme

- 3.15 Registration and networking
- 3.35 Domestics and about A4I
- 3.40 Chairman's address, John Grant
- 3.45 Speakers with Q&A
- 4.55 Form small groups
- 5.00 Coffee break
- 5.10 Small Groups clarify and prioritise:
 - values affecting our Moors
 - interplay of harmonious and conflicting values
- 6.15 Small group feedback
- 6.25 Large group discussion
- 6.50 Speaker feedback
- 6.56 Chairman's closing remarks

How can we manage a site's landscape, ecological and human history and safeguard our archaeological and natural heritage?

Workshop: Work in small groups with our speakers, to identify your values and feedback on their visions for the Moorlands.

Chairman: John Grant, Action for Involvement

Speakers:

Liz Ballard, Chief Executive, Sheffield Wildlife Trust;
Lynn Crowe, Sheffield Hallam University;
Mark Fisher, Wildland Research Institute;
George Monbiot, Guardian Columnist and Writer;
Jon Stewart, General Manager, National Trust;
Roy Taylor, Royal Society for Protection of Birds (RSPB).

Facilitators:

Perry Walker, New Economics Foundation (nef) Fellow
Wendy Stern, Founder, Action for Involvement

At this event we will:

- Draw on our speakers' knowledge, expertise and values to learn how they will affect our prized Moors.
- Share insights, network, draw out key issues and give our speakers feedback on their vision.
- Help all those present to clarify values relevant to this case and understand the interplay of harmonious and conflicting values affecting our Moors.
- After hearing briefly from our speakers', we'll form small groups where their second role will be to engage with you in a workshop format giving high levels of inter-activity and a far more satisfying experience for a 3 hour event.

Photo credit:

Cover of George Monbiot's latest book, Feral: Searching for enchantment on the frontiers of re-wilding.

